DAY 2 - AM at rest, sightseeing in Accra

Although records of Accra date back to the 15th century, the capital of Ghana is a modern city with independence monuments and countless back streets. We'll take a tour later today to see the Kwame Nkrumah Circle and Kwame Nkrumah Mausoleum. We'll drive through James Town, an area of colonial architecture topped by a 30m lighthouse, and pause at Fort Ussher where Kwame Nkrumah was imprisoned. Independence Square is a pseudo-Soviet worth seeing. There may be time this afternoon to visit the National Museum and the National Craft Centre.

DAY 3 - Explore the Shai hills

Shai Reserve is a comparatively small fenced wild-life park, largely made up of savannah covered plains, interspersed with a series of hills. A unique mosaic of forest covers the hills, thicket and grassland with a low stature dry forest found in intervening canyons. We will be accompanied by a guide who is well-versed on the history of the Shai tribes who used to live in the hills, as well as on the flora and fauna of the beautiful coastal savannah. The area of Krobo is famous all around the world for its beads. Here they are produced and used for cults and esthetic purposes. We will visit a factory specialized in the production of those beads and follow the process of making one.

DAY 5 - To Mole National Park via Boabeng-Fiema Monkey Sanctuary

Our drive today takes us first to Boabeng-Fiema village and monkey sanctuary, home to several families of Colobus and Mona monkeys, considered sacred in Ghana. Close by are the 25m high Kintampo Falls, an area also home to a variety of birds, butterflies, indigenous flowers and trees. Before finally reaching Mole National Park we will also stop to visit the Larabanga mosque which is reputedly the oldest building in Ghana, but no-one can quite agree on its age! Some sources date it to the 13th century, which is highly improbable since Islam had barely reached the region at that time. The origins of the mosque relate to a traveller who found a mystic stone, threw his spear and then slept on it. He dreamt about a mosque and when he awoke, the foundations had mysteriously been laid around him. Whatever its origins, it is a striking mudtick building, with minarets and painted walls. We finally enter Mole National Park, the largest park in Ghana. Established in 1958, Mole National Park is mostly flat savannah broken by a high escarpment. Its 4840 square km are home to over 90 species of mammals and 300 species of birds.

DAY 6 - Foot safaris in Mole National Park

A highlight of our trip - we make foot safaris with National Park rangers in both the morning and afternoon in search of some of the wildlife which lives here. Up to 150 migratory bird species may also be seen in the Park, depending on the time of our visit.

DAY 9 - Navrongo Cathedrale with Gurunsi paintings and Dagarti village

Our exploration continues as we turn west toward Wa, capital of the Upper West region. Our journey takes us through the rustic town of Navrongo. In an otherwise mostly Muslim area, Navrongo's predominantly Christian feel reflects its claim as the home of Catholicism in northern Ghana. We will visit the Cathedral of Our Lady of the Seven Sorrows, a traditionally constructed building notable for its frescos and Gurunsi paintings. We will also pass through Dagarti villages on our route.

Accommodation: Upland Hotel (or similar)

Standard Hotel

DAY 10 - Explore the Wa region, visit Lobi villages and meet a tribal chief

We spend much of today exploring Lobi villages. The Lobi comprise a number of ethnic groups in both Ghana and Burkina Faso whose name translates as Children of the Forest. Naturally shy and mistrustful, for years the Lobi had to endure constant attacks from the Guiriko and Kenedougou, as well as the less than sympathetic attentions of the French. Fiercely independent, they still adhere to many of their traditional customs and animist practices, worshipping distinctive wooden fetishes and continuing to uphold their age-old beliefs in the spirit world. Residing in fortified mudbrick compounds in family groups, much like their Dagarti neighbours, the men still carry bows as their ancestors have for generations: the Lobi still have a fearsome reputation as hunters and warriors.

Accommodation: Upland Hotel (or similar)

DAY 11 - Visit Sudanese mosques and drive to Techiman

Our drive today takes us south through remote areas of Ghana's far west through the small settlements of Mawule, Banda Nkwanta, and then to Bole where we will pause to see the beautiful mud and stick mosque.

Accommodation: Encom Hotel (or similar)

Standard Hotel

DAY 12 - Explore Kumasi, the capital of the Ashanti kingdom

Kumasi is the capital of the Ashanti Kingdom. In the 18th century it was the terminus for the slave trading routes but in the 19th century hostilities between the British colonists and Ashanti culminated in the city being burnt. Now it is Ghana's second largest city. This afternoon we have time to visit the Museum in the Cultural Center. Here we see replicas of the Golden Stool, a sacred object to the Ashanti, for the original stool contains the 'sumsum' or the spirit of the entire Ashanti kingdom. Stools are an important part of Ghana's culture and are considered as an extension of an individual both in life and in death. We attend -if available- a traditional Ashanti funeral attended by mourners wearing beautifully red or black togas. We say "funerals" but in fact we mean a "festive" celebration: the deceased is considered being still present in his family. The relatives and friends gather, socialize and celebrate his memory. The chief arrives surrounded by his court in the shade of large umbrellas as drums give rhythm to the dancers whose intricate moves are highly symbolic.

DAY 13 - Visit Elmina Castle

Continuing south we finally arrive back on the Atlantic coast at Elmina. The castles here were built along the entire Ghana coast by the colonial powers of the 15th century to protect merchants and their vested interests, and to create safe anchorages for their ships from the ferocity of the Atlantic Ocean. The castles were also used for 'storing' slaves before they were shipped abroad and so in effect were dungeons as well. Built on the profits of the then lucrative gold and slave trade, the castles became important symbols of European power in the region. With the eventual abolition of the slave trade emphasis changed to the more accepted forms of commerce - coffee, wood and spices. Here we'll visit Elmina Castle.

Accommodation: Anomabu Beach Resort (or similar)

DAY 14 - Exploring Kakum National Park

Leaving the coast we head inland today to visit Kakum National Park. Here the rainforest is one of the most extensive in Ghana, and for those with a good head for heights, there is a canopy walkway some 40m high (optional). This walkway is unique in Africa and offers a rare opportunity to see the forest at the canopy level. Later this afternoon there is an optional tour of Cape Coast castle to learn more about the history of the area.

Accommodation: Anomabu Beach Resort (or similar)

Standard Hotel

Single room available

Meals Provided: Breakfast

DAY 15 - Free time in Anomabu; drive to Accra where tour ends

This morning we have free time on the beach in Anomabu, a last chance for a swim and to enjoy the ocean. We make our way to Accra at lunch time and have a last chance to visit the artisan market.
