Slovakia - In Search of Bears

This is a short break with a difference, combining some great mountain trekking with a search for European 'big game' as we go looking for bears. Working with a local partner, dedicated to conservation we are given unique access into areas of the national park which are normally off limits to tourists. Trekking with an expert ranger, in a group size limited to six, we maximise the amount of time on foot, increasing the chances of observing bears in their natural habitat, whilst also looking out for the wide variety of birds and mammals that populate the park.

Trip highlights

- ★ Bears - the opportunity to search for and then observe bears in their natural environment
- ★ Tatras - guided trekking with a Park Ranger in areas of the park usually off limits to tourists
- ★ Short break - a busy, but rewarding 3 days trekking with the added bonus of looking for bears
- ★ Small group - maximum group size 6

ACCOMMODATION GRADE:

Itinerary

Itineraries on some departure dates may differ, please select the itinerary that you wish to explore.

DAY 1 - Arrive Poprad and make the short transfer to Spisska Sobota

The city of Poprad is located south of the High Tatras, and is the gateway to some excellent trekking and one of Europe's great wildlife experience, the continent's only realistic opportunity of searching for bears in their natural environment without using baited hides. This trip is based around flights with Wizz Air from London, the only direct carrier from the UK to Poprad. The base for our first night is the charming medieval village of Spisska Sobotta, one of a number of villages which have combined to make up the greater city. Our hotel is a converted townhouse, based just off the central square. Depending upon arrival time there may be time to head up to the square to try one of the restaurants for dinner.

DAY 2 - Head into the Tatras, trek the Kamenista Valley

After breakfast we drive through the city and make the relatively short drive to Podbanske, which is located very much in the foothills of the Tatras. Accommodation is in a ranger's guesthouse, which is essentially a base which is used by researchers, government officials and dignitaries who visit the National Park of the Tatras (TANAP). This park was established in 1949 and encompasses a protected area of flora and fauna, as although the park has been recognised as a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve since 1993, and although the range is relatively small 25km wide by almost 80km long there are 25 peaks standing over 2500m offering some fantastic and dramatic treks, as well as a host of wildlife. After check-in we collect our packed lunches and then begin our first walk. Today's walk takes us along one of the many tourist trails within the park. It's an excellent walk to stretch the legs, and there is the possibility of finding bears although the focus of today is definitely on the walk and the beautiful scenery. Unlike other bear watching experiences we spend time looking for bears as opposed to waiting to see bears who approach an area where food has been left. Whilst bear viewings cannot be guaranteed, you would be extremely unlucky not to see bears on your 3 days in the park. Sightings may be at a distance and so binoculars are essential. Heading out from Podbanske, the trail heads west through forests, and briefly joins a sealed road heading into Kamenista valley. The road quickly turns to a path as it follows the stream up through the forests. After an hour or so, the trees are left behind and the valley opens up, with a patchwork of dwarf pine, and berry bushes creating an ideal environment for foraging animals including bears and red deer. The path follows the stream high up the valley, to a saddle, on the Polish border, with magnificent views in all directions. We'll have dinner in our guesthouse, and then depending upon the weather conditions we will drive into the park for an late afternoon / early evening walk. A short drive will take us into the heart of the park, and once there we will take a gentle walk along 'bear valley'. On this walk we get some great views of the valleys and avalanche slopes that have become home to the bears, some of which we will explore further in the coming days.

Accommodation: Tri Studnický Rangers Accommodation (or similar)

DAY 3 - Early start, meet park ranger and begin trekking in exclusive region

The start time this morning very much depends upon the time of the year visiting as we aim to be trekking at first light to increase the chance of seeing bears. In May or June this can mean a very early start to your day. The exact nature of today's walk will depend very much upon the weather and on local knowledge as to the location of the bears. What makes the trek special today is that we spend it in the company of a specialist ranger from TANAP. Working with a local NGO who have negotiated exclusive access to areas of the park in zone 5, one of the zones designated as one of the five areas of environmental sensitivity. These areas are usually forbidden to tourists. Group size on this trek is limited to 6, to maximise the opportunities to see bears, but also to create as little impact as possible. Today's walk focusses on the Koprova valley. After an early wake-up and hot drinks we will set off. Breakfast is usually carried as a packed breakfast to eat on the trail. The walk takes us into the heart of the park. We climb quite quickly to Tuchova climbing steep animal trails through the forest and out onto the alpine zone where bears are most likely feeding, before reaching a maximum altitude of 1977m. At this point we can make a further ascent and drop over a region known colloquially as 'bear island' which adds another 10km to the walking distances. The decision on whether we take this walk will be made by the Leader and ranger and is dependent upon the ability of the group as well as the weather conditions. Depending upon the start time once we return to base we'll have a late lunch / early dinner before once again heading into the mountains for an early evening / late afternoon walk. Dinner is cooked by the Leader but is pre-prepared by his wife, Joshka, who specialises in local dishes such as grilled hermelin (camembert type of cheese) with cranberries and baked potatoes, potato pancakes filled with chicken meat and vegetables or other typical dishes such as Halusky s bryndzou a slaninou - gnocchi with bryndza (specially processed sheep cheese) and bacon. After a short rest we will head into the Park later in the day. The afternoon / evening walk sees us cross a small river and then once again enter zone 5 as we walk on a combination of old tracks and animal paths as we head up to Tomonova meadow. Once here we may just follow the ranger across virgin meadow as we look for the bears, before heading back to base and bed!

Accommodation: Tri Studnický Rangers Accommodation (or similar)

Meals Provided: Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner

DAY 4 - Further treks with ranger, late afternoon transfer to Poprad

After yesterday's short walk into the Tomonova meadow we continue the exploration of this area as we trek further into the park with our Ranger guide as we continue to explore the park. This walk sees us climb up through the meadows, and into valleys hidden from the river valley. Our Ranger once again accompanies us, as we leave the tourist trail we wind our ways up towards the Polish border. On this morning walk we hope to catch sight of the bears foraging for early morning food. If we do come across bears we will spend time just observing them, watching them in their natural habitat. As well as bears there we remain on the lookout for further wildlife opportunities such as sightings of eagle or marmot. One of the rarest animals in the Tatras and symbol of the mountains is that chamois. With a population of approximately of only 1000 the chamois is a protected species. It differs from its Alpine cousins as it has developed in isolation since the glacial age. As we climb higher through the meadows into the more traditional alpine scenery we would expect to see chamois. Eventually we reach the Kaminista saddle, which forms the physical border between Slovakia and Poland. There is the opportunity for a photo with a foot in each country! At this stage the Leader and Ranger will make the decision as to whether we extend the walk or return to the valley floor following the same path taken earlier. This afternoon we make the short journey to Poprad, before transferring to the airport where the trip ends.

Trek details

Trek for 3 days for up to 9-10 hours. For 2 days we trek in areas of the National Park usually off-limits to tourists. The lengths of the walks very much depend upon the weather conditions and expected locations of the bears with the Leader and Park Ranger making the final decisions on whether the optional walks will be offered. We tend to trek early morning and then late afternoon as these are the best times to see bears. You should be prepared to trek off-trail, or on small animal paths. The maximum altitude reached on this trip is just below 2000m. We have graded this trek as moderate to challenging.

Climate

Summers are short in the mountains. July to August is the hottest period, when daytime temperatures average 20-22°C, though it may be much cooler in the early morning or late evening. During the winter, snow and ice is not uncommon, with snow generally starting in December and continuing to early February. Mountain weather is notoriously changeable and it can be cold at any time of year, so be prepared.. Early July is the best time for flowers.

Clothing

Weather is changeable in the mountains and it can be cold, especially at night or early morning, so bring a warmer jacket/fleece and a waterproof jacket. Bring layers to enable you to be comfortable no matter what the temperature as this could easily fluctuate throughout the day.

Footwear

We recommend you bring well-worn in waterproof walking boots - leather or fabric are both fine. In addition please take comfortable trainers/shoes or sandals for evenings at the guesthouse. We suggest that on international flights you either carry your walking boots in your hand luggage or wear them - should your luggage be lost or delayed, your own boots are the one thing that will be irreplaceable.

Luggage

20kg

Luggage: On tour

Bring one main piece of luggage and a 20-30 litre day sack is recommended. You will need to carry what you need for the day which may include a raincoat, jumper, camera, sun-cream, picnic lunch etc. On hot days you will carry fewer clothes but more drinking water.

Equipment

We recommend taking sunglasses, a sun hat, sunscreen and a small torch. You may also find walking poles useful, although they have to be checked into main luggage on the flight. Also, don't forget your camera and any relevant lens along with a good pair of binoculars.

Tipping

Explore leader

At your discretion you might also consider tipping your Explore Leader in appreciation of the efficiency and service you receive.

Local crew

Although entirely voluntary, tipping is a recognised part of life in this region of the world. Some local staff will look to members of the group for personal recognition of particular services provided. Accordingly you should allow approximately £15.00 for tips. In order to make things easier for you, the Explore Leaders may organise a group's tips kitty and if this is the case, they will account for it throughout the trip.
