Itinerary

Itineraries on some departure dates may differ, please select the itinerary that you wish to explore.

DAY 1 - Join trip in Makassar

Our trip starts this evening in the island's capital, Makassar. The city was established as a major trading port in the sixteenth century, trading exotic spices, rattan and sandalwood with its near neighbours the Javanese and Malays. In the 17th Century the Dutch reached the East Indies and Sulawesi was subsequently colonialized, changing the character and face of this city. Modern Makassar showcases an interesting blend of this history with modernity, where glass-fronted skyscrapers jostle for position alongside Dutch colonial buildings, and the bustling harbour still remains a major stopping point for sea trade. If there is time we hope to have a stroll along the main promenade, as at night the seaside boulevard comes alive with street vendors setting up their push cars along the pavement, offering a variety of local delicacies.

DAY 2 - Morning exploring Makassar harbour; afternoon visit to Maros

We head out to nearby Maros this morning, known for its beautiful rice fields and towering karst topography. Here we plan to explore the area on foot, with a short walk of about 1 ½ - 2 hours past rice terraces and in the shadow of rocky limestone outcrops. We will stop for tea at a local Bugis house before returning back to our start point by canoe. This afternoon we are back in the city, where modern Makassar serves as the main gateway to the Eastern islands of Indonesia. On our visit to Poatere harbour we will find the traditional wooden sailing ships, known as Pinisis, lined up along the harbour being loaded by hand before making the journey east. We will continue on foot from the harbour to the nearby fish market, where the expert Bugis fisherman come to sell their catch of fresh fish. It is an interesting, if somewhat pungent market frequented entirely by locals bartering for their lunch, and we expect to be quite the tourist attraction ourselves here. Leaving the fish market behind we move onto a reminder of Dutch colonial rule when we discover Fort Rotterdam. When the Dutch settled in Sulawesi they decided to build on top of an existing fort from the Gowa Kingdom, creating some very curious architecture. We return to our hotel later in the afternoon, where the remainder of the day is at leisure.

DAY 3 - Cycling through villages around the fringes of Makassar

After a leisurely breakfast we head out of the city to the small villages that sit on the outskirts of Makassar. We transfer from four wheels to two, hopping onto our mountain bikes to explore village life in Sulawesi. Our ride takes us through a variety of terrain - through rice fields, along windy paths past rows of banana and lontara palm trees, and through small villages where we can stop to chat to the curious locals that seldom see tourists pass through. There will be tea and coffee stops along the way, and we break for lunch at a scenic spot overlooking an old Bugis Palace. The cycling is approximately 20 kilometres in total, on mostly flat and mildly undulating terrain, taken at a leisurely pace.

DAY 4 - Morning flight to Sarong then board our schooner and meet the crew.

We rise early this morning to catch our flight to the far east of Indonesia, our destination the mystical island of Papua. Previously known as Irian Jaya, Papua covers the western half of the island of New Guinea, and is Indonesia's eastern-most province. Whilst Papua's official language is Bahasa Indonesian, there are few other similarities that Papua shares with the rest of country, making it such a unique and interesting place to visit. Papua is home to many diverse ethnic groups and it is thought that over 250 different languages are spoken here. Its landscapes matches and perhaps surpasses Papua's ethnic diversity, with some of the richest biodiversity in the world - dense tropical rainforest gives way to towering mountains and equatorial glaciers - some of which are thought to be completely unexplored and uncharted territory. We enter into this tropical setting in the port town of Sorong - the gateway to Raja Ampat and the tropical waters of Eastern Indonesia. After transferring to the harbour we catch the first glimpse of our home for the next 9 nights - the Katharina. This attractive vessel has been built in the style of a traditional Indonesian Pinisi schooner, where it looks at home cruising the waters of the East Indies. But whilst it appears a traditional vessel at first glance, underneath the ship has been completely refitted and renovated to a modern standard. The Katharina comprises of 6 comfortable en-suite cabins with toilets and hot showers, there is a spacious lounge and bar area, along with a large and comfortable sundeck with chairs and cushions. Electricity is available on-board, and two tender boats are present to help with on-shore excursions, allowing us to get closer to the action. Once we have some time to settle in to our cabins, we weigh anchor and enjoy an alfresco dinner as we watch the sun dip into the sea.

DAY 5 - Explore Sawinggarai village, for a chance to spot Birds of Paradise

We rise early this morning in order to maximise our chances to catch a glimpse of the beautiful Birds of Paradise. Birds of Paradise are found almost entirely on the island of New Guinea, and are perhaps best known for their incredibly bright and colourful plumage. Interestingly the females are often dull in colour; it is thought that going 'incognito' improves their chances of protecting their nests. The males however are some of the most colourful birds in the world, and pair their famous bright decorations with an elaborate courtship dance in order to win over a mate, creating quite the spectacle to witness. We make our way by tender to the small village of Sawinggarai, and arriving under the cover of darkness, we embark on a short 20 minute walk through the forest to arrive as dawn breaks over the forest canopy. This is the ideal time to get good views of the Red Birds of Paradise, known locally as Cendrawasih Merah. During our time on Raja Ampat we may also have a chance to glimpse the Wilson Bird of Paradise, known for its bright blue head and curved violet tail feathers. We later make our way back to the village where we have the opportunity to meet with the local community and perhaps even visit the island's school. Back on-board the boat, we hope to have an opportunity to stop off at Pef Island where we learn about the local legend surrounding the pre-historic 'hand print' visible high up on the limestone cliff. We should have some time for swimming and snorkelling the reefs of Mioskon Island before our evening's dinner and recap of the day's events.

DAY 6 - Sail through the Dampier Strait and into Raja Ampat

For the intrepid few that visit these remote chain of islands, Raja Ampat is undoubtedly the jewel in West Papua's crown. Sitting in a vast area of the equatorial Pacific Ocean known as the Coral Triangle, it is so named for holding more than 75% of all known coral species, offering its few visitors some the greatest coral reef biodiversity in the world. This morning we sail through the Dampier Strait, an area known to attract an abundant amount of marine life to its nutrient-rich currents. With some luck we hope to snorkel with some of the larger marine life that is often found here, such as manta rays, wobbegongs and white-tip reef sharks. We later continue onto Arborek Village, where we can explore the island on foot and learn about the Asai culture that is practiced here, fiercely kept alive by the villagers living in near-isolation. We will also visit a local manta conservation project where we can learn about the important work being done by the island's volunteers to educate locals and protect these beautiful and elegant rays.

DAY 7 - On the island of Penemu; option for walks on the island, or snorkelling the world-class reefs

We wake this morning in front of the island of Penemu. Waiting for us at the end of a short hike into the islands interior is one of Raja Ampat's greatest views, that of the 'Hidden Bay'. We spend time taking in the glorious scenery that surrounds us, as well as snorkelling and paddleboarding in the area, which is known to be teeming with tropical marine life. We board the boat in the late afternoon before setting sail for the Misool Archipelago.

DAY 8 - Explore the Misool Archipelago, with options for paddleboarding or kayaking

Waking to see the sun rise over this beautiful chain of islands is the perfect accompaniment to our al-fresco breakfast this morning, fuelling ourselves for the day of adventure ahead. The landscape here is made up of towering limestone pinnacles and a numbers of tiny islets where the erosion of the ocean has worked away at the soluble rocks below. We spend our day immersing ourselves in the landscape both above and below the water, swimming, snorkelling, watching for some of the sea birds perched on the rocks, paddling thorough the impressive karst landscape on our kayaks or just taking in the vista from the comfort of the sun deck.

DAY 9 - Swim through the dome-topped cave of Tomolol and explore the karst islands sea-cave cemeteries

A morning swim through Tomolol's mysterious dome-topped cave is undoubtedly one of Raja Ampat's most memorable activities. After an early breakfast, our tenders will take us into the heart of the bay to see this partially submerged cave where it is possible to swim or simply float while gazing up at the cavernous grotto adorned with astonishing stalactites. Those feeling more adventurous can swim or paddle through the dark waters to the other mouth of the cave. We will then move on to the mysterious jellyfish lake and swim amongst the many thousands stingless creatures. After returning to the ship, we will continue by tender to explore more of this impressive maze of karst islands, complete with mysterious skull cairns in sea-cave cemeteries, and prehistoric 'petroglyph' cave paintings, estimated to be anything from 3,000 to 5,000 years old and depicting various human figures and huge human palms, fish, flowers and plants, tools and vessels. Later in the evening we leave this eerie archipelago behind as we sail towards the island of Seram.

Accommodation: Aboard Katharina Schooner (or similar)

Premium Boat

Meals Provided: Breakfast, Lunch & Dinner

DAY 10 - On the island of Seram; Visit the village of Sawai and the chance to trek through in Manusela National Park

The beautiful island of Seram is made up of remote hilly jungle and small villages revered for holding onto the local beliefs and culture of the Lease Islands. Seldom visited by outsiders, our tenders will allow us access to the rugged coastline and an insight to this mysterious and fascinating island and its culture. We will base ourselves in the village of Sawai, where we spend the day getting to know the locals, trekking, bird watching and exploring the surrounding area.

DAY 11 - Discover the karsts and white-sand beaches of Boano Island

We wake this morning in front of Boano Island, an idyllic combination of karst formations, towering cliffs, lush forest and white-sand beaches. We explore much of this dramatic coastline this morning by tender before heading to a nearby snorkelling spot, known by the locals to be teeming with an array of colourful marine life.

Accommodation: Aboard Katharina Schooner (or similar)

DAY 12 - Ashore on Manipa, visit a local distillery for 'kayu putih' oil

This morning will be spent on the island of Manipa, said to have magical powers because the Portuguese, Dutch and Japanese never set foot on its soil despite occupying the surrounding islands. The village that we will explore is simple but bright with tropical blooms, while the surrounding gardens, groves and forests are ideal environments to yield generous quantities of produce such as cashew nuts and the sago palm. We will visit a distillery for the region's famous 'kayu putih' oil. Distilled from vats full of the crushed leaves from melaleuca trees, it is a universal panacea that no Indonesian household is without, said to relieve aches, pains, colds, stomach upsets and a number of other ailments. During lunch we will cruise towards the Pulau Tiga Islands for our final opportunity for some exceptional snorkelling and beachcombing.

Accommodation: Aboard Katharina Schooner (or similar)

DAY 13 - Bid farewell to our boat at Ambon, transfer to the airport to fly back to Sulawesi

After our last alfresco breakfast this morning, we will bid our crew and vessel goodbye as we make our way to Ambon airport, for the flight back to Makassar and to civilisation again. Upon arrival in Makassar, the rest of the afternoon is free to relax or spend at leisure.

Accommodation: Aston Makassar Hotel (or similar)

DAY 14 - Cookery Class in Makassar with local family

Today we will test our culinary skills in a cookery class with a twist - not in a restaurant but in the kitchen of a traditional Bugis house! We first visit two markets with our local guide; a fish market and a vegetable market where we purchase ingredients for our meals, and the guide talks us through the various exotic and unusual fruits and vegetables on display. We then journey by bentor (a motorised rickshaw) to a small Bugis village on the outskirts of the city where our cookery class begins. We meet the family of the house and receive a demonstration of local cooking before trying it for ourselves. The course ends with in a full sit down meal where we can eat all of our exotic creations.

Why book this trip

Surveys suggest that the diversity of marine life found in West Papua is some of the highest recorded on earth, with over 1,300 species of coral reef fish and 600 species of hard coral. This trip has been designed to give you the opportunity to explore this world-class region both above and below the water, from the comfort of a traditional-style Indonesian schooner. It's a relaxed paced trip with plenty of opportunity for swimming, paddling and snorkelling the rich tropical waters of Raja Ampat. The focus however, is not just in the ocean, as we plan to explore remote islands on foot, meet traditional communities and witness the unique bird and mammal life found in this far eastern frontier of Indonesia. This is a unique opportunity to visit a region that is still very much in pristine natural condition, virtually untouched by the western world. We will plan on operating this trip as an exclusive charter voyage, but this will be dependent on us filling the boat. If the required passenger numbers are not met, there may be customers on board which have not booked through Explore.

Indonesia Holidays & Tours

Climate

Lying on the equator, Indonesia stays hot all year round, with daytime temperatures in the 80's (26°-28°C). Humidity is usually high. The wet seasons are roughly: Java- October to April; Bali- November to May; starting later the further east you travel. Nights are much cooler in the mountains than on the plains. Sea breezes normally keep the coastal strips of the islands from becoming too uncomfortable.

Time difference to GMT

Plugs

2 Pin Round

Religion

Islam, Christian, Hindu

Language

Indonesian (official), numerous regional dialects, Sundanese, Javanese and some English.

Budgeting and packing

Clothing

Temperatures tend to hover between 27 and 33 degrees so lightweight cotton and linen clothing is recommended. A pair of long trousers or sarong is recommended for the village visits, as are a comfortable pair of walking shoes. Don't forget swimwear, and you may also want to consider a t-shirt or rash-vest for swimming and snorkelling to avoid sunburn on your back and shoulders. A sun hat is essential, and a jumper or lightweight fleece is useful for the cooler and breezy evenings.

Footwear

Comfortable walking shoes, trainers and sandals/flip flops.

Luggage

20kg

Luggage: On tour

One main piece of baggage and a daysac. Remember, you are expected to carry your own luggage and cabin space is limited, so don't overload yourself.

Equipment

Pack a torch, sunglasses, binoculars, insect repellent, and a waterproof bag for your camera. You may wish to bring your own snorkel and mask, although these are provided onboard. High factor sun cream and sunhat is essential, and as the water intensifies the sun's strength, we recommend a minimum of factor 30. Towels are provided on board. You may also wish to pack motion sickness tablets/patches if you are particularly sensitive to seasickness, although the waters in this area are generally considered calm.

Tipping

Local crew

Although entirely voluntary, tipping is a recognized part of life in this region of the world. Some local staff look to members of the group for personal recognition of particular services provided. Accordingly you should allow approx. £40 for gratuities for local staff.

Ship description

The Katharina is a traditional Bugis-style Pinisi schooner, constructed in 1995 in Kalimantan, Indonesia. It has received two major re-fits, the latest in 2014. The Katharina is equipped with latest navigation and safety equipment, and can power itself under sail or, more commonly, using its 280Hp 6-cylinder marine engine in order to stick to the planned timescales. The schooner measures 40 metres in length, 8.6 metres in beam and the draught is 3.5 metres, with a comfortable cruising speed of 7-9 knots. It has 3 decks comprising of the cabin deck, the main deck with lounge, bar and crew quarters, and the top deck with a dining area and sun deck. Electricity is available onboard, free tea, coffee, soft drinks, juices and mineral water is provided throughout the cruise, whilst a wide selection of wines, beers and spirits are available for purchase. All meals are included, with a wide variety of cuisine and snacks on offer, and special dietary requirements can be catered for when notified to Explore in advance. The ship carries an array of complimentary snorkelling equipment, 2 sea kayaks and 4 paddle boards all available for the guests use.

Cabins

Cabins onboard the Katharina are a mix of double and twin-share, with private en-suite facilities. Although cosy, they are finished to a high standard with teak wood furnishings, air-conditioning and in-room safes. Please note as there are only 6 cabins on the boat, we are unable to offer a single room option whilst aboard the Katharina.
