DAY 2 - Explore the city of Rangoon; sunset at Shwedagon Pagoda

Today we take a walking tour of Rangoon. Starting with a stroll along the banks of Kandawgyi Lake in the centre of the city we continue on to Botataung Pagoda. This pagoda is unique in that it is hollow - as we walk through we can see many ancient relics and artefacts displayed in glass cases. Later on we walk along Pansodan Street through downtown Rangoon, taking in the rich colonial architecture and bustling street markets. In the afternoon we make our way to the Chaukhtatgyi Paya, home to a giant 70 metre long reclining Buddha. The highlight of the day, though, is a visit to the magnificent Shwedagon Pagoda, the most revered Buddhist temple in Burma, whose golden stupa dominates the city skyline making it the ideal spot from which to watch the sunset.

DAY 3 - Drive to Kyaikhtiyo via Bago. Visit Golden Rock for sunset

Leaving Rangoon behind we drive to the town of Bago. Founded in 573AD, it is home to a number of sacred shrines and pagodas, including the Shwemawdaw Paya (the Golden God Temple) the tallest pagoda in the country. We visit the pagoda, as well as the Shwethalyaung Reclining Buddha (the second largest in the world) and the Kyaik Pun Pagoda. In the afternoon we continue our drive to the foot of Mount Kyaikhtiyo, or Kin Pun 'base camp'. Upon arrival we continue in an open truck up a steep 11 kilometre track to Yathetaung. From here we walk for approximately 45 minutes to the mystical and highly revered Mount Kyaikhtiyo Pagoda in time for sunset. Also known as Golden Rock, this pagoda is a large boulder precariously balanced on the edge of a cliff near the top of the mountain, supposedly held in place by a hair of the Buddha.

DAY 4 - Travel overland to the hidden caves of Hpa An. Continue on to Mawlamyine

This morning we head for Hpa An, a town that enjoys a glorious location surrounded by limestone cliffs, lakes and mountains. Hpa An is known for its collection of caves hidden in the hillsides, the centre piece of which being Kawgon cave, or the 'Cave of ten thousand Buddhas'. We make our way on foot through the caves and past beautiful Buddha murals, before boarding a small wooden canoe where float back out into the sunshine. We then continue onto Mawlamyine, where the remainder of the afternoon is at leisure.

Accommodation: Attran Hotel (or similar)

DAY 5 - Exploring Mawlamyine, the old colonial capital.

The former capital of British Burma, Mawlamyine today is the capital of Mon State and is a mixture of wide leafy boulevards and colonial-inspired architecture. This morning we set off to explore the nearby Bilu Island, an area known for its small villages where you can watch the local craftsman at work. We then head back to the city to visit some of the Mawlamyine's most beautiful pagodas, along with its first Baptist Church. We end the day watching the sunset from the well-positioned Kyaikthanlan Pagoda, the very place which served as inspiration for one of Rudyard Kipling's most famous poems - Mandalay.

DAY 6 - Scenic drive to Dawei, visiting the Burmese end of the Death Railway en route

Today will be a long but rewarding day, with a total driving time of approximately eight hours on roads which will be bumpy and unsurfaced on occasion. We will stop at Thanbyuzayet Station, known to be the western terminus of the infamous Death Railway that was built to connect British Burma with Siam during the Second World War. Much of the railway on the Burmese side of the border has now been reclaimed by jungle, but the Thanbyuzayet terminus remains, with a well-kept Allied War Memorial containing the grave stones of 3512 POW's that tragically died during its construction. We continue south, with our road winding its way through the lush forested Southern Plateau, which acts as a natural divide between Tanintharyi State and Mon State. Stopping in the town of Ye for lunch, we try some traditional Burmese dishes at a local restaurant. After lunch, we continue our drive onto the small town of Dawei.

Accommodation: Golden Guest Hotel (or similar)

Standard Hotel

Single room available

Meals Provided: Breakfast

DAY 7 - Discover the small town of Dawei on foot.

Previously known as Tavoy under colonial rule, Dawei was one of the first cities settled by the British after the first of three Anglo-Burmese wars, and as a result the town is rich in history and colonial architecture. We set off on foot to explore the downtown area where most of the grand old buildings stand, resplendent in their fading elegance. We then continue on to the busy market where locals complete their daily shop, purchasing fresh fruit, vegetables, and locally caught fish. It is a town that receives very few tourists, so we are likely to find ourselves as a local tourist attraction! The remainder of the afternoon is free to spend at leisure, soaking up the unique atmosphere of this historic town.

Accommodation: Golden Guest Hotel (or similar)

Standard Hotel

Single room available

Meals Provided: Breakfast

DAY 8 - Fly to Myeik and explore the Southern-most frontier of Burma

We make our way to the airport to fly to the port town of Myeik, that is perhaps even further off the tourist trail. Known as 'Beik' by its locals, it is located in the far south of the country, on a small peninsular that juts out into the Andaman Sea. The charming town is dotted with gleaming pagodas, Buddhist temples and beautiful wooden houses from its historic days of being a significant fishing port. Myeik is also famous for the Burmese pearls harvested by the Moken people, otherwise known as the Sea Gypsies that inhabit some of the islands that lie off the coast of Myeik. Here we learn about the harvesting of bird nests to make bird nest soup, considered a delicacy in many parts of China and believed to have wonderful health benefits. The swiftlets make their nests in empty buildings, and in some buildings loudspeakers, or tweeters as they are commonly known, have been installed to try and entice the birds in to build their nests. We also plan to visit a working boatyard, where fishing vessels are brought in for repair, and new teak vessels are built. There is no modern equipment used, all of the repairs are done by hand using traditional methods passed down from generation to generation. This evening we set off to Thain Taw Gyi Lan, an area that is full of beautiful old monasteries where we hope to encounter local Buddhist monks collecting alms. Our day's end is atop Phayargyi Pagoda for sunset, where we can enjoy vast panoramic views of the surrounding islands as the sun dips into the Andaman Sea.

Accommodation: Eain Taw Phyu Hotel (or similar)

Standard Hotel

DAY 9 - Morning speedboat to the islands of the Mergui Archipelago, visiting an inhabited island en-route. Free afternoon

The next three days will be a true adventure as we cruise into the stunningly beautiful Mergui Archipelago, an area almost entirely undiscovered by tourism. We start our journey with a three hour cruise from the port town of Myeik, through the tropical turquoise waters of the Andaman Sea and onto the Mergui Archipelago. We plan to base ourselves on Nat Thamee Yedwin Island, an uninhabited island made up from a lush jungle interior encapsulated by white sandy beaches and rocky outcrops. We will camp on the beach where we will sleep under canvas, or if it is a clear night, you may wish to sleep under the stars. The camp will have toilets and washing facilities, as well as a crew to cook our meals for the next two nights. Whilst we will aim to have exclusive use of the camp and for the majority of departures this should be the case, the camp is open and may accommodate a couple of intrepid backpackers that occasionally make it out to the Archipelago.

Accommodation: Nat Thamee Yed Win Island Beach Camping (or similar)

Simple Camping

Meals Provided: Breakfast, Lunch & Dinner

DAY 10 - Full day swimming and snorkelling in the tropical waters of the Andaman Sea

We wake this morning to the sounds of the waves gently lapping against our own beach. After enjoying a freshly cooked breakfast we leave the shores of our island to explore our surroundings. The exact itinerary has not been planned in advance and will be decided on the day dependant on local conditions, and of course our local guide's knowledge and intuition. We will explore some of the colourful reefs that lie in the shallow waters of the nearby islands, and we will aim to make two or three stops today with plenty of time for snorkelling the warm tropical waters, taking in the abundantly beautiful marine life. Lunch will be taken on the deserted beach of one of the islands, a simple affair of rice, Burmese curry, vegetables and fish, prepared by the chef that morning. Snorkelling equipment including masks, snorkels and flippers are all provided, as well as life jackets should you wish for one, but you will need to bring your own towel.

Accommodation: Nat Thamee Yed Win Island Beach Camping (or similar)

Simple Camping

Meals Provided: Breakfast, Lunch & Dinner

DAY 11 - Morning visit to a fishing boat, afternoon speedboat back to Myeik.

If possible, we plan to visit one of the local fishing boats this morning that frequent the area. The boats used by the fisherman here are traditional in construction and generally made from teak wood. They will fish for a variety of species, but a lot of the vessels we see will be specifically looking to catch squid. These boats are easily recognisable as they have large outrigger lined with huge bright lightbulbs, and several boats will often congregate together. The fishing is done at night when the lights are turned on to attract the squid to the surface. We will have a chance to board and meet the fisherman, learning about some of the techniques employed with this method of fishing, along with a tour of the vessel and the chance to buy some produce which we can cook for lunch - from ocean to plate in just a few hours! After lunch we visit a small waterfall before making our way back across the Andaman Sea to the relative civilisation of Myeik.

DAY 12 - Late morning flight to Rangoon, afternoon exploration of Twante

Today we fly back to Rangoon, and after dropping our bags at the hotel, we make our way by boat the town of Twante. This historic town sits astride of Burma's two great rivers, the Irrawady and Yangon River, and a canal was built here by the British to connect the two for easy access to the Irrawady Delta. Twante is known for its handicrafts and pottery work, with many local artisans residing here. We spend time admiring the intricate works before exploring the rest of Twante by traditional Burmese 'Trishaws'. We return to Rangoon late in the afternoon, where it may be possible to catch our last glimpse of the Schwedagon Pagoda as the sun sets on our Burmese adventure.

Accommodation: Panda Hotel (or similar)

DAY 13 - Morning flight to Bagan, afternoon discovering the plain's temples and pagodas.

We transfer to the airport for our early morning flight to Bagan, a short flight of around one hour and 20 minutes. Here we can look forward to a couple of days exploring this awe-inspiring site. As the stand-out highlight for a lot of our customers, many report that their photos do not do justice to Bagan's magnificence and scale. Without doubt one of the world's premier archaeological wonders, its vast plain is studded with literally thousands of 1,000 year-old temples and stupas. From the 9th to 13th centuries, Bagan was the capital of the Kingdom of Pagan - a precursor of modern Burma. During its height of success between the 11th and 13th centuries, over 10,000 buildings were constructed here, of which over 2,200 still remain. Its sheer magnitude can be realised when you consider that there are more temples, stupas and pagodas on this Manhattan Island-sized plain than there are medieval cathedrals in Europe.

DAY 14 - Further exploration of Bagan, optional visit to Mount Popa

Before visiting the temples today, we stop in Phya Saw village to gain an insight into the traditional ways of life that have changed little over the centuries. We are likely to engage with the local people as they go about their daily business - cotton weaving by hand, grinding peanut oil with oxen and caring for various village animals. Moving on to the temples of Bagan, with so many to choose from, we plan to visit some of the most iconic and distinctive. These include Shwezigon - a prototype of later Burmese stupas; Wetkyi-in-Gubyaukgyi - a 13th century cave temple with some interesting frescoes and Ananda Pagoda - one of the finest, largest and best preserved in Old Bagan. We are also likely to visit Ananda ok Kyaung - a former monastery with spectacular 18th century wall paintings. In the late afternoon, a horse drawn carriage will take us through the temple complex to help us to gain a greater appreciation of the scale of the site. As we travel on and on, amongst a seemingly infinite number of temples and stupas, it is easy to understand why Bagan is known as 'The City of Four Million Pagodas.' We hope to finish our day with a memorable sunset view from an upper terrace of one of the temples.

DAY 15 - Morning flight to Rangoon, free afternoon

This morning we leave the plains of Bagan behind as we return to Rangoon. After checking into our hotel, the rest of the afternoon is free at leisure to explore more of this sprawling city. You may like to visit the immense Bogyoke Market, formerly known as Scott's Market, for souvenir or gift hunting, although please note that it is closed on Mondays, full moons and public holidays. You may also wish to experience the serene surroundings of Shwedagon Pagoda one last time.

Why book this trip

Our Undiscovered Burma tour visits some remote areas of Burma that have only recently opened up to tourism, so you will be travelling to places few other tourists have been before. This trip initially ran as a 'recce tour', where a group of our most intrepid customers visited this area for the first time in early 2016. We used their advice to hone the trip and put together this new itinerary. It is fair to say that this tour is part-designed by the very people who travel regularly on our trips.

Clothing

You will need loose fitting, comfortable clothes for hot, humid conditions. Sunhat, sunglasses, long trousers and long sleeved shirt essential for protection from the sun. You may wish to bring swimwear for your time in the Mergui Archipelago. Please dress respectfully when visiting temples and religious sites, covering your torso, shoulders and legs to below the knee and easily removable footwear for convenience as you can only enter sacred sites barefoot. In general, as Burma is a traditional, conservative and largely Buddhist culture we recommend you do not wear revealing clothing.

Footwear

Lightweight walking/hiking boots with good ankle support, trainers and/or sandals for travelling.

Luggage

20kg

Luggage: On tour

One main piece of baggage and daypack. Remember you are expected to carry your own luggage so don't overload yourself.

Equipment

Sleeping bag - mats and bedding will be provided whilst camping, but you may wish to bring your own sleeping bag/leeping sheet for your own comfort. Mobile phones: Your mobile will not work in Burma. It is possible to buy a local SIM card for $5 in order to make/receive international calls, as long as your phone is un-locked. SMS messaging may not be possible. WiFi is available in most hotels. Torch/Batteries/Bulb: A small torch is recommended for travel in Burma. Street lighting in both cities and rural areas can be very poor so a torch is useful to help light your way while out at night. Additionally power cuts can occur from time to time, particularly in rural areas. Remember to bring some spare batteries.

Tipping

Explore leader

At your discretion you might also consider tipping your Tour Leader in appreciation of the efficiency and service you receive.

Local crew

Although entirely voluntary, tipping is a recognized part of life in this region of the world. Some local staff will look to members of the group for personal recognition of particular services provided. In order to make things easier for you, the Tour Leaders may organise a group's tips kitty and if this is the case, they will account for it throughout the tour. Accordingly you should allow approximately US $40 for this purpose.

Local fees

Cameras and video-cameras are permitted in Thailand and Burma for which some sites charge a small fee. Restrictions on photography include military facilities and any structure considered strategic (including bridges and train stations though this last may be loosely enforced).

Recommended Currency For Exchange

Carry all your funds in U.S. Dollars cash, larger denominations tend to get better exchange rate. NB - PLEASE ONLY BRING NEW U.S. DOLLAR BILLS (BIG HEADS INSTEAD OF SMALL) AND THEY SHOULD BE NEW AND IN A PRISTINE STATE. ANY OLD, TORN OR MARKED NOTES WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. U.S. Dollar bills with the series CB will not be accepted for exchange.

Where To Exchange

The official rate is far different from the market rate, we recommend you consult your tour leader for advice regarding the best place to exchange. The exchange booth at airport offers a very poor rate so we recommend you wait until getting into town (taxis accept dollars if agreed beforehand).

ATM Availability

ATMs are becoming more widely available and some hotels may have them, including the Panda Hotel in Yangon. You are more likely to find them in the larger cities, but they are now starting to appear in some of the smaller towns and villages. Credit Card Acceptance

Credit cards are becoming more widely accepted but you should not rely on them. The places where you are most likely to be able to use them are in the cities of Yangon and Mandalay and there may be a charge.
