On arrival in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania's largest city, you'll head straight out again on a light aircraft to the Selous Game Reserve. Named after the explorer and hunter Frederick Courtney Selous, the Selous is the largest game reserve in Africa and incredibly is almost the size of Switzerland. Located in the south-east of Tanzania the grassy plains, forests and open woodlands are home to the endangered African wild dog, buffalo, lion, leopard, impala, kudu, eland, zebra and over 50% of Tanzania's elephant population. At the heart of the reserve the Rufiji River cuts through the landscape, creating lakes and swamplands, home to some astounding birdlife including pelicans, storks, waders, kingfishers, eagles, ibises, vultures and much more. Depending on the time of your arrival you may have the opportunity to go on an afternoon game drive.

DAY 4 - Walking safari and boat safari on the Rufiji River

Exploring the Selous is exciting however you choose to do it – on foot, in a jeep or from a boat! Venture out on foot early in the morning before the temperatures rise and your safari guide will help you spot smaller wildlife, such as the “Little Five” – elephant shrew, buffalo weaver, leopard tortoise, ant lion and rhino beetle. Look for footprints, insects, birdlife and flora and fauna that may be missed while in a safari truck. Much of the game viewing in the reserve is concentrated in and around the great Rufiji River which attracts a great variety of wildlife activity. This afternoon, head out on a boat safari along the river. You may see pods of hippos, while crocodiles bask on the banks enjoying the golden light of the late afternoon and watch the flame red sunset over the doum palms.

DAY 7 - Optional trip to Bagamoyo

Today has been left free for you to relax or explore at your leisure. Perhaps you could take an optional excursion to Bagamoyo on the mainland, the oldest town in Tanzania. Bagamoyo's history has been influenced by Arab and Indian traders, the German colonial government and Christian missionaries and was the major slave trading post in East Africa. Bagamoyo, which means 'lay down your heart' in Swahili, was probably given this name because it was the last place the slaves would stay in Tanzania before being shipped off to foreign lands. Although the slave trade officially ended in 1873, slaves continued to be sold and traded in Bagamoyo through the end of the 19th century. The Holy Ghost fathers established their first mission station in Bagamoyo in 1868, and it was in its chapel that Dr. Livingstone's body was brought from the interior and kept before being shipped back to Europe. Remains of German's colonial buildings as well as those of Arabs are the main attractions in Bagamoyo.

Accommodation notes

Booking a Single Room

All of our group tours are planned and operated on a twin-share basis, meaning that the standard cost is based either on individual travellers sharing accommodation with another group member of the same sex, or people who book together sharing accommodation. Please refer to the tour notes where the single room option availability is detailed on a night by night basis for this tour, and the price for the available nights is detailed on the dates & prices tab by departure date. For Self-Guided trips the Single Room supplement offers the option of a single room each and is charged per person. The Single Room supplement also applies to the third person in a party of three that will be accommodated in a single room.

Premium

On premium level tailor-made tours you will stay at comfortable mid-range hotels, chosen for their location, ambiance or local character. Your rooms will be clean and well-appointed, with en suite bathrooms and air-conditioning or heating as necessary. Standard level hotels normally have restaurants, bars and often other amenities such as a swimming pool and gardens, offering a good level of comfort at a reasonable price.

Rufiji River Camp

Rufiji River Camp has a great location high up on a bank overlooking the Rufiji River, affording fantastic views. Each tent has a large shady thatched roof and outside sitting area from which to enjoy the sights and sounds of the African bush. The camp also has a small pool and offers boat safaris on the Rufiji River, and game drives encompassing the three nearby lakes.

Lazy Lagoon Island Lodge

With 9km of deserted beach, Lazy Lagoon lies in the Zanzibar Channel, offshore from mainland Bagamoyo. The large and airy self-contained beach bandas have shaded verandas and hammocks overlooking the ocean. With high, open roofs, the buildings catch the cool sea-breeze, therefore air-conditioning is not needed. The main lodge offers a lounge, bar, dining area and swimming pool.
