DAY 1 - Join trip in Tehran

Arrive in Tehran, Iran's bustling capital city. Set at the foot of snow-capped Alborz Mountains, the concrete skyline boasts a stunning backdrop as well as some impressive architecture.

For those arriving on time our Leader plans to meet you in the hotel reception at 6pm to welcome you and assist with dinner arrangements. There are no other activities planned today, so you are free to arrive in Tehran at any time. DAY 2 - Exploring in Tehran

Many flights arrive into Tehran in the early hours of this morning. For those arriving on one of these flights there will be time to freshen up and possibly a short sleep before we begin our exploration of the city this afternoon.

After lunch we'll head out into the city, Tehran, a sprawling, modern city, which has only been the capital for 200 years. However, 20% of Iran's population live here and it's an ideal place to get accustomed to the Iranian way of life, with the best restaurants and museums in the country. This afternoon, we have a city sightseeing tour to include the National Museum, also known as the Museum of Ancient Iran, where we learn of Persia's 2,500-year history, from the expansion under Cyrus the Great in 550 BC, the Persian Wars during Darius I reign, to Alexander the Great and the burning of Persepolis in 330 BC. There are also excellent exhibits from the 600 years of Arab control until the 13th century. We also visit the wonderful Golestan Palace to explore the a complex of 17 royal structures boasting stained glass windows, mirrored ceilings and marble thrones.

DAY 3 - Travel down to Yazd

Today we leave Tehran and have a full day driving south, through the desert to Yazd. We break the journey in Naïen, stopping for lunch and visiting the Jame Mosque. The ancient mosque is still in use today and has some beautiful stucco work on the mihrab, the niche in the mosque wall that indicates the direction of Mecca. After visiting the mosque we continue on to Yazd. The city is known for its Zoroastrian culture but is most famous for its wind towers and the city is dotted with small houses winged by wind catchers used to cool the local's homes.

DAY 4 - In Yazd, visit the Towers of Silence and Zoroastrian fire temples

This morning we visit the Towers of Silence, built on a hilltop outside the town, these traditional Zoroastrian burial grounds are where bodies were quickly returned to nature by being devoured by vultures. Continuing our exploration of the Zoroastrian culture, we visit the Ateshkade or 'Zoroastrian Fire Temple'. Predating Christianity by many centuries, the Zoroastrians were possibly the first to believe in an omnipotent God. In the temple we see a flame that has burnt continually for more than 1500 years.

There will be time this afternoon to explore the famed old city. Described by many as a living museum, the clay-brick houses and ancient Islamic buildings, seemingly woven together in a maze of narrow alleys, are best discovered wandering on foot.

Please note - All customers on the group visa must adhere to the Explore Leader's instructions during free time throughout this trip. There are strict rules applied to both guides and tourists in Iran, and therefore the Explore Leader may need to accompany the group during designated free time, or alternatively, guidelines of areas that can be visited freely and/or set meeting times for the group to re-join may be necessary. These instructions are for the purpose of abiding by local laws and ensuring customer safety so please be prepared to cooperate.

From here we take a short walk to the Nasir al-Molk Mosque, a highlight of the trip. The mosque has stained glass windows which, in the morning illuminate the room with a kaleidoscope of colours and just sitting in the corner in this ambient atmosphere has got to be good for one's soul. The rest of the day is free to explore Shiraz. There are plenty of sites to discover, you may choose to visit Saadi's Tomb in the north-east of Shiraz or maybe enjoy the historic Eram Gardens. Shiraz is known as the friendliest city in Iran, which in a country full of smiling happy people is some accolade! Iranians love to find out where you are from and ensure you are enjoying their hospitality, so walking around Shiraz is a real pleasure with lots of fun conversations and interactions.

DAY 7 - Visit Naqsh-e Rostam and the legendary Persepolis

Today we start out early to drive to the rock hewn royal tombs of Naqsh-e-Rostam where Darius I and his successors are buried. We spend time exploring the site, before continuing on to Persepolis. Situated in high steppe-land, the legendary capital of Darius the Great was founded in 512 BC. There was no more impressive construction in the ancient world, except perhaps Karnak in Egypt. Darius built the terrace, the Apadana (great audience hall), the Tachana (palace), the monumental staircases and his son, Xerxes, added the harem and the Hall of 100 columns. Though a shadow of its former self, the soaring pillars, terraces and sculptures of Persepolis cannot fail to stir the imagination of any visitor. The remainder of the day is left free for you to explore Shiraz, and try some of the local delicacies including the shirazi salad, a spicy, healthy and tasty accompaniment to a chicken kebab.

Side porticoes graced the columned halls of the two palaces and flowing watercourses ran amongst his beautiful palaces and pavilions. This ambrosial pleasure garden and its architectural delights created the ideal location for a ceremonial centre hosting successive coronations. Although quickly superseded by Persepolis, Pasargadae has enchanted travellers through the ages - including Alexander the Great. The drive will take us most of the day and we should arrive to Isfahan with time for a quick walk along the river to Sio Se Pol Bridge, which is lit up at night and is a favoured place for young Iranians to meet and catch up.

We then cross the square and enter Sheikh Lotfollah Mosque, known as the ladies mosque; it has an ornately painted domed ceiling and an elaborately decorated entrance. Clothing

Dress code in Iran

Iran is a traditional Islamic country and a strict dress code is enforced throughout the tour.

Women:

Head - A headscarf must be worn by women at all times, preferably tied under the chin. Some hair can be shown (remember to pack a headscarf in your hand luggage for arrival).

Arms - must be covered by long sleeves

Feet - Any comfortable footwear is acceptable

In cold weather it is useful to have a cardigan which you can wear over your manteau and easily remove

Manteau - long coat or shirt

The Manteau should hide the shape of the body and must be mid-thigh to knee length. It is best to purchase a manteau or similar such as a 3/4 length cotton coat that hides your shape and covers your arms prior to your arrival in Iran. A long baggy men's shirt or loose dress can be used instead of an overcoat, but the above principles must apply.

We recommend one cotton or linen length manteau for the south and a warmer one for the north.

However, if it is not possible to purchase, long shirts or coat will suffice.

Legs - should be covered by trousers or a long skirt below the manteau

Underneath the 'manteau' anything can be worn!

April to September can be hot (approx. 30 degrees plus) - A bra and light cotton trousers/skirt is sufficient.

Pack for hot conditions during this period of the year.

March, October, November can be cold (approx. 12 degrees) - warmer clothing is needed under the manteau and you will need a warm fleece or jacket for cold nights. Bring waterproofs between Oct-Apr.

The 'chador' - 'coverall' - is only worn at holy shrines and can be borrowed locally. Dress code is more relaxed in some towns and brighter garments are being worn by young locals.

Men:

Men must wear long trousers. Short sleeved shirts are acceptable but most Iranian men wear full length sleeves. April to September can be hot (approx. 30 degrees plus) - Pack for hot conditions during this period of the year. March, October, November can be cold (approx. 12 degrees) - warmer clothing is needed, you will need a warm fleece or jacket for cold nights. Bring waterproofs between Oct-Apr.

You may find when you arrive in Iran that some local Iranians do not dress as traditionally or strictly as we have suggested above. Explore feels that it is socially correct for our travellers to be responsible in the way they travel and respect all country traditions so we would advise that you try to stick to our advice as closely as possible and then once in Iran you can make your own decisions as to how much is appropriate to cover. Your tour leader can also advise you on this in each location.

Footwear

Comfortable shoes/boots are recommended.

Luggage

20kg

Luggage: On tour

One main piece of baggage and a daypack. Total allowance: 44lbs/20kgs.

Equipment

Bring a waterbottle, torch and a universal plug for hotel basins. A small foldable shoulder bagatchel for museums, as most do not permit backpacks only handbags and bags of a similar size. As there are no recycling facilities for plastics in this area, to cut down on waste plastic resulting from buying bottled water (tap water is ok to drink in Iran).

Tipping

Explore leader

Tipping isn't compulsory, and we work hard to ensure that our leaders all receive a fair wage. However, you might want to recognise a leader that's done a great job or really added to your trip by giving them a tip. We're often asked about the recommended amount. It's a tricky one, and down to personal preference, but we'd recommend between £15 to £20 per person per week as a guideline.

Iran

Food and drink

The costs for meals may vary depending upon location, type of restaurant and number of courses eaten and so the prices given are an average guide. Local restaurants located off the beaten track may be less expensive, whereas an upmarket restaurant located in the centre of a major city may charge more.

Lunch price	Dinner price
£9	£12

Water price

£0.90 Please note that alcohol is not available within the country of Iran.

Foreign Exchange

Local currency

Rials.

Recommended Currency For Exchange

Major hard currencies are accepted in the main cities but we advise taking all of your spending money in Euros or US$ cash (Travellers Cheques can be hard to change). Once you arrive in Iran there will be no way for you to get any extra money so please make sure you bring plenty with you so that you do not run out.

Where To Exchange

Currency exchange is available in most major towns and cities

ATM Availability

do NOT work with foreign cards

Credit Card Acceptance

Accepted in some of tourist shops in Isfahan but please do not rely on this as it is not always possible

Travellers Cheques

Very hard to change.

Please note the various process times depending on your nationality: British, American and Canadian: Minimum of 25 working days
All other nationalities: Minimum of 10 working days

Please note - All visa authorisation code/invitational letters arranged by Explore are on a group visa basis which does not permit any independent travel within the country and requires for all traveller to be on an arranged tour with a tour leader at all times.

You can submit your application for your visa, once Explore has obtained your authorisation code/invitational letter and sent it through to you. Please note, if you intend using the London or Dublin Consulate, then we strongly recommend to contact them first to confirm that they have your authorisation code/invitational letter or alternatively to wait a minimum of 3 working days after you have received your authorisation code before attending the Consulate. Most Consulates provide a 5-7 working day visa processing service.
