Itinerary

Itineraries on some departure dates may differ, please select the itinerary that you wish to explore.

DAY 1 - Trip starts in Kutaisi, Georgia's second largest city

The trip starts today in Kutaisi. The city sits on the banks of the Rioni River and the Caucasus Mountains can be seen in the far distance to the north. Kutaisi has been revitalised after post-war Russian decline and the Georgian government moved its parliament here in 2012.

There are no activities planned for today and you are free to arrive at any time although please note that your guesthouse room may not be available until after 2pm. Complimentary airport transfers are provided to all customers arriving both today (day 1), and on day 2, into Kutaisi David the Builder International Airport (KUT), which is around 30 minutes' drive from the city centre. As many flights don't arrive into Kutaisi until late tonight or the early hours of tomorrow morning, your Leader does not plan to hold the welcome meeting until after breakfast tomorrow (day 2).

Should you have time to explore today, Kutaisi is a fairly compact city and easy to get around on foot. The city centre is around 20 minutes' walk on the other side of the Rioni River. You can take a quick walk around Kutaisi Park and admire the old-town architecture. Highlights include Meskhisvili Theatre, the Opera Theatre, Kutaisi City Hall and the ornamental Colchis Fountain.

DAY 2 - Visit Gelati Monastery; drive to Svaneti region

Your trip leader plans to meet everyone after breakfast today for a welcome meeting. Please check the guesthouse reception area for a notice regarding timings. Following this we drive out of Kutaisi to visit the 12th century Gelati Monastery. Gelati is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and was one of the main cultural and intellectual centres in Georgia in medieval times. We also call in at the city's thriving local farmers' market, a great chance to get a first flavour of local life and see some of the fresh produce we'll be enjoying in our meals during the trip.

It's around a six hour drive from Kutaisi to our destination for the night, the village of Becho in the region of Svaneti, with the scenery during the second half of the journey becoming ever more dramatic and mountainous as we head north. Becho lies close to the Russian border in the shadow of the magnificent Mount Ushba. At 4,710 metres, Ushba is commonly known as the 'Matterhorn of the Caucasus' because of its distinct spire-shaped summit. Situated on the southern slopes of the central Caucasus Mountains and surrounded by 3,000 to 5,000 metre peaks, Svaneti is the highest inhabited area in the Caucasus. Its valleys are dotted with beautiful medieval villages where you will see many stone towers, or Koshki, as they are locally known, which were originally built in medieval times to protect the villagers from invaders and provide sanctuary from avalanches. It is an area of stunning natural beauty with glaciers, rivers and coniferous forests. The local people, known as Svans, are a distinct ethnic sub-group with their own language and traditions.

DAY 3 - Hike to waterfalls at the base of Mount Ushba

Today we drive a short distance up the valley to the start point of our trek near the settlement of Mazeri. Our hiking route starts out following the left bank of the Dolra river, ascending gradually through thick forests on a rocky trail. There are some great views of the beautiful Ushba waterfall along the way.

Eventually we cross the river on a wooden bridge to reach a small military encampment in the woods. The Russian border is not far away, just over the mountains. From here the route becomes steeper and the path soon leaves the forest to reach the impressive waterfall at the base of Mount Ushba. You can choose to rest at the bottom of the falls or continue on a steep hike all the way to the top. We plan to have a picnic lunch during our hike and enjoy the views before making our way back on the same trail through the forest to our bus.

In the afternoon we drive deeper into Svaneti to Mestia, the main centre in Upper Svaneti and our base for the next two nights. Mestia is a large village, a small town sited at an elevation of 1500 metres with a population of over 2,600. It's becoming increasingly popular with Georgians and Russians as small a ski resort in winter (there are a handful of runs outside of the town) and a centre for trekkers in the summer months. Quite a few of the old stone dwellings on the northern side of the town still retain their imposing stone watchtowers and these are illuminated at night, an enchanting sight. At the Margiani House museum you can visit a traditional Svantian home and climb inside one of the watchtowers. The History and Ethnography Museum is well curated with information provided in English and well worth a visit if you are keen to find out more about the Svan culture.

Today's 11 kilometre walk is expected to take approximately 6 hours with a total ascent and descent of 980 metres if ascending to the top of the falls, 450 metres to the first waterfall.

DAY 4 - Hike from Jvari to the beautiful mountain lakes of Koruldi

This morning we take four-wheel drive vehicles to the start of our hike today, the small village of Jvari. Our aim is to reach the beautiful mountain lakes of Koruldi. At an altitude of 2750 metres, the lakes are located at the foot of Mount Ushba with fantastic views of the surrounding mountains including Mount Tetnuldi and Mount Laila. We'll enjoy a picnic lunch at the lakes before returning on the same route to our waiting vehicles that take us back to Mestia.

Today's 8 kilometre walk is expected to take approximately 3 hours with a total ascent and descent of 600 metres.

DAY 5 - Four wheel drive to Ushguli and Mount Guro ascent

This morning we drive to Ushguli and as the road condition deteriorates past Mestia we'll travel by four-wheel drive vehicles. There's almost a sense of driving back in time on the journey which culminates with a striking view of the four hamlets which make up Ushguli, nestled at the bottom of a steep valley with many brooding medieval watchtowers in sight. Oxen are still used to plough the fields of potatoes and the streets are a often muddy, higgledy-piggledy warren of mainly stone dwellings.

We strike out on the first of our two hikes from Ushguli in the afternoon - the ascent of Mount Guro whose 3070 metre summit overlooks the village. The hike starts with a steep climb out of the village and continues steeply upwards through pastures rich with many wildflowers including orchids and wild tulips. We'll take our time to enjoy the views which open up to show us Mount Shkhara (Georgia's highest peak at 5201m), Mount Tetnuldi and Mount Laila. The panorama from the top is simply stunning and we spend time here before making our way back down to the village.

Today's 10 kilometre walk is expected to take approximately 5 to 6 hours with a total ascent and descent of 800 metres.

Nanuli's Guesthouse (or similar)

DAY 6 - Trek to the foot of Mount Shkhara and the Shkhara Glacier

Mount Shkhara is Georgia's highest mountain, standing at 5201m, it's the eastern anchor of an imposing 12 kilometre long ridge known as the Bezingi Wall. Our walk to the foot of the glacier at the base of the mountain follows the course of the Enereti River back to its source along a surprisingly flat trail and for the most part we are rewarded with spectacular views of the mountain. Wildflowers carpet the grassy valley and purple orchids can be seen in bloom along the banks of the river. As we reach the final approach to the glacier the path becomes steeper and terrain rockier. Finally we reach the tongue of the glacier, with incredible views up to the craggy, snow-covered sides of Mount Shkhara. We return on the same route to Ushguli then drive back to Mestia.

Today's 18 kilometre walk is expected to take approximately 6 hours with a total ascent and descent of 320 metres.

DAY 7 - Hike from Mulakhi to Mestia; drive to Zugdidi

This morning we take four-wheel drive vehicles to the start of our walk today, the small village of Mulakhi. The trail skirts around the side of a valley and passes through several small settlements and takes in superb views of all the way back to the Mestia valley. We'll enjoy a picnic lunch with views along the trail. Leaving the mountains behind in the afternoon we make our way to the town of Zugdidi for our final night in Georgia.

Today's 14 kilometre walk is expected to take approximately 4.5 hours with a total ascent of 520 metres and descent of 650 metres.

Tipping

Explore leader

Tipping isn't compulsory, and we work hard to ensure that our leaders all receive a fair wage. You may however, want to recognise a leader that's done a great job or really added to your trip by giving them a tip. We're often asked about the recommended amount. It's a tricky one, and down to personal preference, but we'd recommend between £15 to £20 per person per week as a guideline.

Local crew

Although entirely voluntary, tipping is a recognised part of life in this region of the world. Some local staff will look to members of the group for personal recognition of particular services provided. Accordingly, you should allow US$ 20.

In order to make things easier for you, the Leader may organise a group's tips kitty and if this is the case, they will account for it throughout the tour.
