DAY 11 - In Phnom Penh, free day with option to visit the 'Killing Fields'

An engaging mix of tree lined boulevards, colonial villas and vibrant city streets; Phnom Penh is the riverside capital of Cambodia and a fascinating reflection of the country's ancient and colonial past. You could pay a visit to the National Museum, with its impressive collection of Angkor statues, or perhaps the grand French-built Royal Palace and Silver Pagoda Complex. Another option is the Tuol Sleng Genocide Museum and the 'Killing Fields' of Choeung Ek, chilling testaments to life under the Khmer Rouge and Pol Pot. Of course you may just prefer to soak up the atmosphere of the city from one of its old colonial riverfront bars or browse through one of the many busy markets.

DAY 12 - Drive through provincial towns and villages to Siem Reap

This morning we drive to the small city of Siem Reap, gateway to the renowned treasures of the Angkor Empire. The city provides us with an interesting base for our next couple of days as we have the opportunity to explore the UNESCO World Heritage Site of the Angkor Archaeological Park - probably one of the most important ancient sites anywhere in South East Asia. On arrival we will take a short walking tour of Siem Reap itself.

DAY 13 - From Siem Reap, visit Angkor Wat, Angkor Thom and Ta Prohm

Today we explore a selection of our favourite temples by tuk-tuk, locally known as 'remorque'. Angkor was actually a series of cities, built between the 9th and the 13th centuries by the Khmer kings, with a population of 750,000 in its heyday. The Angkor temple complex is spread out over some 155 square kilometres, scattered with magnificent carved stone temples, elegant sculptures and incredible bas reliefs. We explore Angkor Wat, the most well-known and best preserved of the temples, learning about the history and art of the ancient city. We then make our way to the fortified city of Angkor Thom, where we find the serene smiling carved faces of The Bayon. And we end the day at the wonderfully atmospheric collection of overgrown towers and courtyards of Ta Prohm - the temple made famous by the film 'Lara Croft'.

DAY 14 - In Siem Reap, free day with option to take boat on Tonle Sap Lake

Today is left free for you to explore further. The temples are certainly worth another visit as there are many more to discover. However, other possibilities include taking to the waters of the Great Lake of Tonle Sap to visit the floating villages and the flooded forest. Alternatively, take an excursion out of the city to see to the fascinating Landmine Museum, just south of the exquisitely carved Banteay Srei Temple.

Cambodia

Climate

Cambodia is a hot and tropical country, being hottest in April and coolest in January (still high 20s). Although rainfall is at its maximum in October, Phnom Penh and Siem Reap receive very little rain compared to the coastal areas, and when it does rain it tends to be in the form of sporadic mid afternoon downpours. There is normally very little rain between December and March.
