Itinerary

Itineraries on some departure dates may differ, please select the itinerary that you wish to explore.

DAY 1 - Join trip in Cartagena, drive to Tayrona; Visit Quinta de San Pedro Alejandrino

Our four-day extension starts by driving from Cartagena to our hotel, which is located to the east of the Tayrona national park, on Colombia's Caribbean coast. En route we will visit Quinta de San Pedro Alejandrino, a small hacienda built in the 17th century, famously the death place of Simon Bolivar, the famous liberator of much of South America. This extension is not accompanied by an Explore Leader, and local guides will accompany us on this drive, as well as within the national park.

We will continue on to Magdalena, and on arrival, you'll have time to relax at the hotel and explore the surrounding areas.

In the area you'll be staying there can be strong currents in the sea, making it unsuitable for swimming, but a short walk along the beach to Buritaca will take you to calmer waters where you can swim and snorkel.

ACCOMMODATION:
Villa Maria Tayrona (or similar)

Grade: Standard Hotel

DAY 2 - Full day hiking in Tayrona National Park

It's a short drive to Calabazo, where we enter Tayrona National Park and start our trek to the archaeological site of Pueblito, known as Chairama in the indigenous language. To get to the site we have a hike of about 3 hours, in predominantly dense jungle, with long sections of uphill on dirt paths, occasionally clambering over big stones and tree trunks. This hike is a true adventure and if we're lucky we'll spot tamarins, monkeys and birds within the forest. The area was once inhabited by the Tayrona people, believed to be one of the most advanced pre-Colombian cultures, occupying Pueblito for hundreds of years. The community disappeared without leaving any records of their knowledge or social organisation. However, their paths, roads and paved terraces remain, covered in dense jungle, which we can now walk along and explore. The remnants of the canals and bridges at the Pueblito ruins are in impressive condition considering the surrounding environment, and the stunning setting under the jungle canopy makes this an experience to remember.

After visiting Pueblito, we will take a short but steep downhill, containing many of the old stone bridges and steps built by the Tayrona people, towards Cabo San Juan de Guia. The golden sands of this beach come closer into view as we come out of the vast forest, and we'll have the afternoon to spend relaxing and swimming here before heading back. We don't retrace our steps, but head back into the overgrowth for a two hour gently undulating hike to your vehicle.

Alternatively you may wish to relax on the beach.

Country information

Colombia

Climate

The dry season in Colombia roughly runs from December to March/April and also a slightly 'drier' period from July to September. These are among the best times to travel, although visits outside of these months are very manageable. The Caribbean coast is very hot and humid all year round (always around or above 30°C), although the offshore breeze between December and March makes this a more popular time to visit. Due to the high altitude locations of places like Bogota, Manizales and Armenia temperatures here can be quite cool during 'winter' months (Nov to Mar/ Apr) and the nights are cool to cold at anytime of the year. The coffee harvest seasons are March to May and September to November; it is during these periods that it is possible to see the red coffee beans and watch the whole process of coffee production.
